BUSINESS AT THE USUAL LEVEL

Trade Experiences Midsummer Dullness
Dunn & Co.'s Weekly Report.

New York, July 20.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of business says:

"The week's news is not entirely encouraging, but that is all the more natural because there are signs of midsummer dullness. Wheat prospects are not ports of gold and the less favorable treasury returns for July are not unexpected and mean nothing as to coming business. There is a perceptible decrease in the demand for most manufactured products and the actual distribution to consumers naturally lessens in midsummer. Much of the recent buying was to anticipate a rise in prices and such purchases fall off when prices have risen. There are still numerous advances in wages but strikes grow more numerous and important.

"In part because business was unusually large in the first half of July, a quiet tone meets reasonable expectations. The heavy bank failure at Montreal does not affect financiers here and is passing there with less disturbance than was feared.

"Gold exports for the middle of July when crops are beginning to move, h not meant to affect stocks, can at all events have only a speculative influence.

"Wheat has declined 2 cents for September, corn 1½ cents, cotton ½ cent wheat not half of last year's; cause, disappointment at prices, while exports for the week about a quarter of last year's and for three weeks only 2,829,028 bushels, flour included, as against 7,046,266 bushels last year, show that foreign dealers are not regarding the situation with anxiety. Nor do British accounts indicate any anxiety about cotton, while efforts are reported by some of the American mills to sell part of the stock in ten months ago, which apparently exceed their needs for the year. If unfavorable to some speculators, there are cheering indications, for it is better to have fair crops than to get high prices for what remains.

"The strike of several thousand miners in the Marquette region may have important consequences. Producers of non-Bessemer ore have sold largely for the future at prices so low that they cannot add to cost of production, and other mines in the Northwest may be affected. Minor metals are stronger, with sales of 4,000,000 pounds copper up to 11 cents for lake, and tin very firm. In spite of a large visible supply.

"Wool advanced in the first half of July an average of 1 cent for 104 quotations.

Philadelphia, and is now 7 per cent higher than a year ago. Sales naturally lessened, being 7,980,000 pounds for the week against an average of over 13,000,000 pounds for each of the two previous weeks, but prices are sustained by German and French buying in the London market. Cotton mills continue to enjoy a large business and several have advanced wages this week, but some strikes of considerable importance are threatened or in progress. The weak tone for the material does not as yet

"Failures for the week have been 2 in the United States, against 236 last year, and 39 in Canada, against 44 last year."

HUSBANDS LACKING FOR 675 FAIR MAIDS

JANESVILLE GIRLS DISCOURAGED BY THE CENSUS.

Preponderance of the Gentler Sex Makes it Problematical Where the Marriage Clerk is to Get His Material—How the Military Strength Looms Up.

A surplus of 675 young women in Janesville.

Hardly a surplus, either. "Surplus" suggests over supply, but there never can be an over supply of such young ladies as are Janesville's pride.

It is only from the feminine point of view that the preponderance is deplorable.

Viewed from that point it means that 675 young ladies fitted in every way to adorn a home must go through life in single blessedness. It seems incredible that in spite of this condition the young ladies of the city write graduation essays opposing immigration. Unless the tide flows our way, bringing several hundred of the sterner sex to the Bower City, it will be manifest that at least seven hundred Janesville girls are destined either to move west or become old maids.

It is in order for somebody to call a relief meeting at once.

Plenty of Military Strength.

Whatever they lack in the way of natural protectors, however, the ladies of Janesville may feel assured of safety in time of war. The census shows enough Janesville men subject to military duty to make two full regiments of infantry, a full battery of artillery, and four or five troops of cavalry, enough to form a fighting brigade of 2,528 men, all between the ages of 18 and 45 years. As a reserve force, there are 201 veterans who did valiant service in the late war, most of whom still possess nerve sufficient to hold their front, while the younger men move to the front.

To fully equip this army of occupation horses must be imported, or the cavalry squadrons must take the field dismounted, as the number of horses returned number only 881. There is also a deficiency in the milk supply, there being only 544 cows to furnish cream and butter for the brave boys at the front. Possibly they might be induced to forego this luxury, as did some of the men of sixty-one.

Nearly All Born Here.

The nativity of Janesville's population is somewhat of a surprise. The figures show that 10,842 were born in the United States; while only 833 were born in Germany; 552 in Ireland, and 483 in Great Britain. Many people supposed that Ireland furnished the greater part of our foreign population, but that country must take a back seat and allow Germany to take front place. Scandinavians number only 156, while France, Russia, Hungary, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, China and British America, have representatives here.

The colored population is limited to 26, there being fourteen males to twelve females. The Third ward has no colored people.

A CYCLER IS TRAINING HARD.

Local Rider Put Through a Rigorous "Course of Sprouts."

Two or three of the Arrow cyclers are taking a regular course of training for the coming race. One young man is up with the lark; takes a twenty-mile spin on his wheel and then a mile on foot, after which he is thoroughly rubbed down and is ready for his breakfast. The meal is plain food, similar to that served to a prize fighter in training. After breakfast he is given another exercise, so in fact, is kept moving pretty much all the time, from early morning until late at night. Just before going to bed, he takes a cold water bath, and is thoroughly rubbed, after which he is given a round or two with his boxing gloves.

"If I don't win that race, you will never see me in another," he said last evening, when his trainer refused to let him have a cut from a juicy Georgia watermelon.

TEAMSTERS ALL WANT TO WORK

All Kinds of Vehicles Are Pressed Into Service Race Week.

The races always create a boom in the teaming business, and local draymen have looked forward to race week as one of their most profitable periods. But this year the business is rather out of step. Farmers and a number of outside parties were at the railroad yards last Sunday when the horse trains arrived, with their hayracks, looking for work.

T. H. EDDEN SURPRISES A SHARPER

Harmony Man Lands a Race Track Crook In Sheriff Appleby's Hotel.

Just in the way of experiment Thomas Edden bought a ticket on a "sure thing." Everybody knows about these sure things. If the money burned on sure things, this week, were put in a heap it would make a surplus so big that two Wilson bills couldn't reduce it.

But then there are sure things and sure things. Mr. Edden's was of the latter sort—the sort that wins.

When a Harmony farmer sizes up a horse he makes few mistakes and Mr. Edden had his judgment verified in this case by seeing his choice come under the wire two lengths ahead.

Then he dug up his ticket.

"I'll cash it for you," said a young man with whom he had been talking.

Mr. Edden let him take the pasteboard. The youth cashed the ticket all right, but pocketed the money and came back with a losing ticket picked up off the ground. He offered them to the Harmony man.

"Your ticket is no good," he said.

"The horse finished seventh."

That particular horse may have finished seventh but Mr. Edden didn't. He believes in finishing first. He beckoned to Constable Cochrane. The young man was relieved of his ill-gotten wealth and was then marched off to jail amid the cheers of the crowd.

DYNAMOS TO BE RUN BY STEAM POWER

CAPTAIN NORCROSS WILL USE THE HALL ENGINE.

Low Water Makes Precautions Necessary, or the City May Be Left In Darkness—New Machinery For Furniture Making—Gossip From Spring Brook Addition.

Low water threatens to cripple the electric light plants, and precautions are being taken. Captain Norcross has made arrangements with the Hall furniture factory for the use of the large Corlies engine nights. Two large dynamos will soon be placed in position, and switched in on the electric light circuit at the corner of McKey boulevard and Eastern avenue.

Spring Brook people are more than pleased with the outlook since the Hall furniture factory started. The factory gives employment to a larger force this summer than have been employed for a long time. Manager J. J. Hall said this morning that the works would be in full operation inside of three weeks, employing a force of between fifty-five and sixty men. New machinery has been added, including a back knife gauge lathe with a capacity of one thousand table legs a day. Several new saws of the latest patterns have also been added, including a double cut-off saw. Most of the machinery came from the east, but some of it was made in Beloit.

Much Work on The Bridge.

Work at the Jackson street bridge goes on slowly. A number of piles which were not figured on in the first place must be put in, while the railing must be replaced in a number of spots. The contract does not call for railing and what will be done in this matter remains to be seen.

Eastern avenue since Street Commissioner Watson's visit has showed marked improvement. Many now use this thoroughfare to the city instead of the Main street route. Besides electric lights, a school house and a new bridge, the people in Spring Brook now talk of a sewer. The matter was thoroughly discussed at an informal meeting in Samuels and Kuehn's store. A number who have built in the addition have dug cess pools, but these are admitted to be very unhealthful. Perfect drainage could be obtained easily. The sewer proposed would follow the Northwestern side tracks down to the river. Sewerage has been discussed considerably in the last two years but now the low water and the cess pools throughout the addition are making the need of a better system very apparent.

Minor Spring Brook Notes.

Spring Brook people sold pools on the race between Chief Acheson and the score card men and now agree the chief is a sprinter.

Recent rains have raised the water in the creeks around Spring Brook, which have been the lowest in years.

Tramps have been thick about the addition this week and have made themselves very troublesome.

Many of the Hall furniture factory employes have passed their period of idleness in camp up the river.

The melons are brought here by a local firm, while an outside house handles the bananas. A wagon load of melons arrived in the city yesterday, from Detroit and were sold to a west side grocer for ten cents each.

 1854—Caroline Anne Southey, poet and novelist, widow of the laureate, died; born 1787.
 1870—Beginning of the Franco-Prussian war. French troops marched to the frontier, and Napoleon's declaration of war was received and acted upon in Berlin. The war grew out of dispute over the succession to the throne of Spain, although this was a mere pretext, as the bitterest feeling had existed between the countries for many years. Napoleon, however, has been charged with forcing a crisis in order to produce internal harmony and strengthen his tottering throne.

PROVE THE CENSUS.
 Janesville wants to be sure the census is accurate. The men in charge of the state enumeration here are all conscientious and capable, but it would be worth a great deal to the city if their count were checked and all inaccuracies eliminated.

Two simple methods of thus verifying the work of the census officer have been suggested, either of which would be effectual and comparatively inexpensive. One method is to publish the lists as completed by the city clerk, taking one initial letter or one street at a time (the latter plan being preferable) thus enabling every man to know how his own household and his neighbors' household have been listed and to correct, by report at any time at the city clerk's office, any over-count or under-count that may be revealed in any family or boarding house or hotel.

A second method proposed is that in each block of the city, a person residing in that block and acquainted with all the people resident therein shall go from house to house in his own block alone—not crossing a street but going simply "around the block"—and that these block censuses thus secured throughout the city shall be checked against the regular census and made to tally.

By either of the methods here suggested neighbors would be interested in the count of inmates in one another's houses and being mutually well acquainted, would be able to tell in an instant whether there had been omissions on account of temporary absence, or whether other miscount had been made.

CURRENCY HAS CONTRACTED.
 Within the last year the per capita money circulation of the country has declined from $24.30 to 22.99. According to the inflationists this should bring lower prices but instead it is coincident with a rise in the price of a number of important articles of commerce and a marked industrial revival, demonstrating again that it is not so much the matter of the supply of the currency as of the condition of confidence that conduces to business activity. As has been repeatedly pointed out, the great trouble with the inflationists is that they ignore altogether the very important part that credits play in the transaction of business.

Thousands of strangers have visited Janesville this week, and have gone away well satisfied. The reputation of the city for energy and enterprise is strengthened by such a race meeting as that just ended. Nowhere in the northwest are stronger attractions offered to horse-lovers this year, and no city in the country shows a series of contests more honestly conducted or more satisfactorily judged.

Plenty of republicans think it unfortunate that the legislature meddled with the treasury cases. They do not concede the right of democrats to criticize, however. Only by the aid of democratic votes was the relief bills passed and had democrats not agreed the measures could never have become laws.

Happy Janesville! It has 675 more young women than its share. And when any city has a preponderance of such young women as adorn and enliven this thrice-blessed community no other immigration inducements are needed.

John Sherman's example is not catching. The number of prominent men who have declared that they would not be president if they could, is still very small.

Twenty Five Dollars Reward.
 A reward of $25 dollars will be paid for the arrest and conviction of the party turning in the alarm of fire at box 31, this morning.
 JOHN C. SPENCER,
 Chief Engineer.
 Janesville, Wis., July 20, 1895.

Races at Freeport.
 Commencing Monday, July 22, and continuing during race week the C. & N. W. R'y. Co. will run trains as follows for Freeport: Leave Janesville daily at 6:35 a. m. Returning, leave Freeport at 7 p. m. Arrive in Janesville at 10:30 p. m.

GLOWING TRIBUTE TO DR. EGO

Janesville Patients Speak of the Relief He Has Afforded Them.

The undersigned wants the public to distinctly understand that these are no solicited testimonials.

STATE OF WISCONSIN,
 COUNTY OF ROCK,
 CITY OF JANESVILLE.

Personally appeared before me a notary public in and for said county, Neil Roberty, of Janesville, Wis., who, after being duly sworn by me, deposeth and sayeth as follows:

I have been a sufferer of rheumatism during the past nine years, and during the aforesaid time, I have had the most excruciating pains throughout my entire body. I doctored with the best of physicians, and tried different kinds of patent medicines, but could find no relief until I went to see Dr. Ego on Friday July 12, 1895. After he examined me, he told me he could cure me. I was not able to stoop over to pick up a five dollar bill lying in front of me on the ground, but now I can stoop over and pick up a five cent piece with ease, just think of it. My pains are all gone and I am feeling better now than I have in years. I wish to say that I am sixty-five years of age, but I feel like a boy of twenty-five years. I earnestly implore all rheumatic sufferers to seek Dr. Ego for he can cure them. I remain a friend in thankfulness to Dr. Ego for the remarkable treatment and cure he has given me. I remain,
 Truly Yours,
 NEIL ROBERTY.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of July, A. D., 1895.

B. B. ELDERIDGE,
 Notary Public,
 For State of Wisconsin.
 STATE OF WISCONSIN,
 COUNTY OF ROCK,
 CITY OF JANESVILLE.

Personally appeared before me, a notary public in and for said county, Mrs. E. B. Dixon, of No. 68 Chatham street, Janesville, Wis., who, after being duly sworn by me, deposeth and sayeth as follows: I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for eight years. My hands and fingers were stiff; my ankles were swollen to an enormous size; could not walk without a cane in each hand; could not dress myself; could not sleep and had no appetite and I have suffered untold agony. I was utterly helpless, could not remove my shoes; had no strength in my arms or limbs. I suffered so much that I was willing to have my toe amputated if I could get any relief, but after consulting Dr. Ego, the 11th of July at the Park house, and after a thorough examination, he assured me that he could cure me without such heroic measures. And I wish to say that I have doctored and doctored with our home physicians, and physicians from abroad, but derived no benefit until I consulted this wonderful healer, Dr. Ego. Thank God, that such a man came among us. Now I want all my friends to know that I am going to attend services at the Congregational church tomorrow morning for the first time for nearly two years. I wish to thank Dr. Ego a thousand times for what he has done for me, for I had given up all hopes of ever being cured. I heartily recommend him to any and all rheumatic sufferers, with great thankfulness. I remain, Mrs. E. B. Dixon.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 20th day of July, A. D., 1895.

I'll Fix Them.

If you have a bicycle and it requires repairing, cleaning or oiling, bring it to me. I have purchased the repairing outfit of Blakeley & Freehauf and have moved it into my store. Prices reasonable and work guaranteed. Walter Helms, 29 South Main street.

Shirt Waists.

Our shirt waists at 19, 39, 45, and 75 cents are still going very rapidly, for the simple reason that they cannot be bought in any store in the city at these prices. T. P. Burns.

ONE of the handsomest improvements in the city is the artificial stone sidewalk just put in by George D. Cannon, of 301 Cherry street, for George L. and Sarah H. Carrington, in front of their new residence, No. 10 Clark street. It is well worth the while of anyone interested in such improvements to take a walk up there and look it over.

The horse race is over, but our sale of the North stock continues. You can't always plunk your money on the winner, but you can gamble on our prices with a certainty of coming out ahead. We make a price on the goods that causes dealers in second hand plunder to be distanced in the race. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

A FINE large stock of crockery, lamps, and glassware now on the way, will arrive the first of next week and will be put on the shelves prepared at the annex. Prices will be as usual. Lowell, the Hustler.

MAKE NO CHANGE.

National Union Convention Will Continue Assessments.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 20.—With the meeting held yesterday at the Hotel Rudolph the National Union closed its fourteenth annual convention. By a practically unanimous vote the old officers were re-elected to serve for the ensuing year. The matter of the adjustment of the rate, decreasing the number of assessments during the year and increasing the amount came up for final settlement. It created a lively discussion, but a majority of the senators held that it was far easier to pay a number of small assessments than a few large ones. After an hour's debate the question was put to a vote and it was decided to make no change in the present schedule of rates. The extension of the order will be pushed chiefly in the Eastern and far Western states, and a number of new cabinets and assemblies will be formed at an early day.

Will Not Form a Separate Party.

Chicago, July 20.—The executive committee of the Memphis silver convention has completed its work. The complexion of the committee assures a co-operation between the two national silver bodies. The executive committee is composed of Henry G. Miller, Chicago, chairman; Congressman J. H. Acklen, Tennessee, secretary; General A. J. Warner, Ohio, Judge A. J. Rucker, Colorado; George S. Bowen, Illinois; Senator M. C. Blanchard, Louisiana, and Colonel Anson Wolcott, Indiana. The conference on Thursday night finally settled the question of separate party organization. The men from the North and West were ready for such a movement, but the Southern men said that separate party organization could not proceed in the South until after the action of the next Democratic national convention. If that, as from all probability it would, should refuse to recognize the free coinage of silver, then the silver element of the South might be drawn away from the Democratic party. It was decided there should be no separate party formed yet.

Injured on the Erie Railroad.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 20.—About 12:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon two engines and a baggage car were demolished and a number of people injured on the Lake Erie railroad, near McKee's Rocks. The accident was caused by a coal train attempting to cross over the main track, and the passenger train crashed into the engine and coal train.

Under Civil Service Rules.

Washington, July 20.—The President has issued an order placing employees of all pension agencies under civil service rules.

Pump or Drown.

The Dutch are not fond of lazy people, and they have a very good way of curing persons who can but won't work. If a pauper who is able to work refuses to do so, they put him in a cistern to which a pump is attached, and turn on a stream of water. This stream flows in the cistern just low enough to enable the lazy person by lively pumping to keep the water from getting up over his head.

BIVENS' BAY MARE TAKES THE 2:15 RACE.

Last Day's Races Bring Forth the Usual Number of Surprises—Allie G. and, Queen Allah Pitted in the 2:22 Class—Crowd Fills the Grand Stand.

The track record on trotting was broken by Klamath's mile in 2:11 1/2 this afternoon.

This was the last day of the Janesville meeting and next week the flyers will be scoring up for the word at Freeport, Detroit and other minor meetings. Some of these horses have already gone and many more will leave tonight. Today's program was a good one for beside the unfinished race for 2:15 paces there were three other good races on the card. The unfinished race was not devoid of excitement. When the last heat was paced last night and it was proposed to postpone the contest until today an mighty howl went up. People who had their money up insisted that the race go on and some people who had no money to bet backed them up. Secretary McKinney stated the case in a very few words when he rang the bell and said:

"Now if you gentlemen want to race you must all drive to win. We are all good friends but we can't put up with any schemes. Some of you drivers want to ship your horses tonight but we want a race, not a phodrome. We want a race where each man is sending his animal and we are going to have it."

Suspected Some "Falling."

Then George Spear, the driver of Spinxetta was told that he must push his mare out as some people thought that she could have won the final heat. After some talk Secretary McKinney told them to get their animals ready for another heat, but as one horse had lost a shoe and others had damaged harnesses, etc., the sun sank behind the horizon before they got out for the fourth heat and the event was declared postponed until one o'clock this afternoon. The race resulted:

The 2:12 Trotting Race.

The 2:12 trotting race was the event that people were most interested in today. In it there were fourteen entries, they being as follows: Senator A., 2:13; B. B. P., 2:13; Regal Wilks, 2:11 1/2; Kentucky Union, 2:11 1/2; Commodore Porter, 2:13; Nina Medium, 2:14; Brown Dick, 2:12; Baranette, 2:11 1/2; Maud C., 2:15; Klamath, 2:13; Bourbon Wilkes, Jr.; Jr.; Jack, 2:11 1/2; Mark Sirus, 2:13; and Pactolus 2:13. Klamath, who was entered by T. W. Raymond, of Santa Anna, Cal., had been one of the season's sensations, and had not yet lost a race. At La Crosse, for instance Klamath defeated Nightingale, Kentucky Union, David B. and, Marin Jr. in 2:10 1/2 and 2:12, cutting his record from 2:13 and demonstrating that he was a race horse. But Klamath was not the only sensational performer named. Kentucky Union had made an excellent showing at the other towns, while Senator A., the grey ghost, had also done well.

Maud C. was another good horse and had won victories galore. At Dubuque Maud C. won the first heat in 2:10 1/2, getting second money over Kentucky Union and Senator A. At Des Moines she had beaten Senator A., Nina Medium and others, the best time being 2:11 1/2. There were other good ones in the race too and when the starters came out the list stood as follows, the result at 4:30 o'clock being:

2:12 class trotting, purse $1000.
Klamath, b. g. by Marookus (Raymond) 1 1 1 1 1

The 2:33 class pacing purse had called forth eleven entries they being Erie B., Nymph, Pearl C., Nettle, Hal Crago, Jack, Captain W., Hal Douglas, White Stockings, Lucy Gordon and Housemaid.

GOSSIP FLOATING IN THE DUST.

HINBERT WILKES, Soverhill and Porter's pacer seems to be a good one. His first start this year was in the 2:29 pacing class and he got fifth place, finishing a good fourth in 2:14 1/2. James Scott handle Hinbert Wilkes in a way that proves him a thoroughly competent horseman.

KATE PHALLAMONT who is being campaigned this season by Colby of Minneapolis has been entered both in Detroit and Buffalo.

A GOOD sized crowd were on the accommodation this morning, to attend the races, mostly from Jefferson and Fort Atkinson.

AFTER Kate Phallamont's great race yesterday there were two well known horsemen who tried to buy her.

A HUNDRED Juda people were on hand to yell with local pride when Kate Phallamont won.

A YOUNG acrobat, who follows the races, has made $38.50 by exhibiting in local saloons this week.

F. C. COLBY the Minneapolis reinsman, won two races worth $890 net yesterday.

H. C. PROCTOR was the distance judge and he did the work well.

BABIES PUT IN JAIL AS TRAIN WRECKERS

TWO SMALL BOYS ACCUSED OF SERIOUS MISCHIEF.

Ten Year Old and Twelve Year Old Arrested By a C. & N. W. Detective For Laying a Tie on the Track Near the Black Bridge About Ten Days Ago.

Attempted train wrecking was the charge against two children who slept in jail last night.

One ten years of age.

Two years older, the other.

Their offense was the placing of a tie across the C. & N. W. track near the black bridge ten days ago. It will be remembered that the tie was discovered in time to prevent the derailing of a train. Detective Conway of the C. & N. W. force, was at once detailed by the company to secure the arrest and punishment of the train wreckers. Last evening he arrested the two boys, the younger named Kirmspa, and the older Petershaski, both being Poles and living in the Second ward.

Probably Were Frightened.

The youngsters were kept in jail over night, and this morning were allowed to return to their homes. Just what points the detective discovered is not known, as he is keeping the affair extremely quiet, preferring, perhaps, to secure more direct evidence before he brings the lads into court. It is said, however, that he is convinced the youngsters had no intention of wrecking a train, but that they had been sent out to pick up firewood. They had secured the old tie and were carrying it toward their home when they became frightened and ran away leaving it on the track. If this be a fact, it will be difficult for the detective to convict the boys of being train wreckers.

HOSPITAL STAFF ORGANIZED

Meeting of Physicians in Dr. W. H. Palmer's Office Last Night.

A meeting of doctors to organize the staff of the Palmer Memorial Hospital, was held last evening in Dr. W. H. Palmer's office. Those who were present were Drs. Palmer, Judd, Hughes, Mills, Loomis and Thorne. Drs. Clark, Edden and J. B. Whiting, Jr., are also identified with the institution. The other physicians of the city are understood to be supporters of the Oak Lawn project.

Drs. Judd, Mills and Loomis were named as a committee on printing, and Dr. McCall as a committee of one to secure the signatures of physicians. Another meeting will be held Wednesday evening of next week to adopt by-laws and choose directors. A consultation staff of eminent outside physicians is discussed, and the organization of the hospital on such lines that physicians can give special attention to single lines of work.

The intention is to work on lines wholly distinct from those followed by Oak Lawn, and not to interfere with that hospital in any way. Printed matter pointing out the advantages of the city and the hospital will be distributed through Wisconsin and northern Illinois, and advantage taken of the fact that there is a circle of seventy-five miles around Janesville in which no well equipped hospital is to be found.

SHIRTS GAINED BY A SHARPER

Adam Skelly Victimized By One of the Men At the Track.

Adam Skelly took a wagon full of laundry work to the track last evening and threw bundles right and left as horsemen called out their numbers. "Number 9," yelled a smooth faced young man.

Adam handed out bundle No. 9—a big, fat bundle it was—and the claimant hurried off. Ten minutes later another man came up and wanted bundle No. 9 and produced proof that he was the rightful owner. A compromise was arranged and the police were told how easily somebody had stocked up on Sunday shirts.

EMBEZZLER CAUGHT AT A HOTEL DESK

W. H. LACY FLEES FROM MICHIGAN IN VAIN.

Got Cash From His Employers, A Reed City Wholesale Firm, and Then Made Tracks—Marshal Appleby Saw Him in Beloit and Followed Him Here.

William H. Lacey of Reed City, Mich., walked out of the Myers House dining room today plump into an officer's arms. He will start for Michigan Monday to be tried for embezzlement.

Marshal George Appleby of Beloit received a telegram a short time ago, giving the description of a man who embezzled $50 from the wholesale firm of Kunsan & Mernar of Reed City. He saw Lacey in Beloit and said:

"That's the man."

Before he could verify his suspicions Lacey left town and Appleby traced him to the Myers House.

He was waiting at the hotel office at noon when Lacey finished eating his dinner, and got him as he walked up to the desk. Lacey owned up that he was the man wanted and the officers in Reed City were notified.

BRIDGE FOUND IN BAD CONDITION
The Milwaukee Street Bridge Is In Bad Shape.

The Milwaukee street bridge which is to be repaired next week is in bad shape. While walking across this morning Chief Acheson discovered a hole clear through the bridge which would just admit a horse's foot. It was patched up and a damage suit averted. The work of repairing the bridge will commence on Monday as safe before.

The street commissioner is to clear the deck and prepare the joists before the contractors take charge of the planing and paving. Only one side of the car track will be repaired at a time thus giving the public limited use of the bridge while the work progresses.

HATS AND BODICES.

Fashionable and Becoming Veils—How to Hang the Bodice.

Leghorn is once more in favor for both hats and bonnets. It has the virtue of pliability, and it cleans for ever and a day. With all hats large and shrouding veils are worn, but of such light and filmy texture that they do not interfere either with the sight or with free ventilation. The objection to veils hitherto has been the friction they exercise on the eyebrows and eyelashes, but this objection does not apply to the new fabrics for the purpose, as these are of the gossamer description, and the veil itself is so hung that it clears these features and mends its own business only, and that is to guard the complexion from the sun and wind. The Parisian veils are all rounded off and have a narrow border, scalloped. The most becoming have spots at wide intervals. White veils with black spots are very becoming.

Women who wish to keep their bodices fresh and in proper shape should suspend them over a coat hanger when they are not in use. If room for that cannot be afforded, loops of tape should be sewed on the inside of the armhole, at the under arm seam, by which to hang them up.

Sleeves continue to expand, and to so great an extent have they blossomed out that even in thin goods they require a fitted lining in order to maintain their position and puffiness. A great deal of trimming is often employed upon the upper part, but the portion which covers the forearm is left comparatively plain. Stripes are much worn this season. They are seen in all sorts of goods—in muslin, silk and wool—and are becoming to most women except those of extremely tall and slender figure. In skirts the gores are so arranged that the stripes form vandykes, while in sleeves the stripes are bias at the upper part.

The cut shows a thin costume, the godet skirt of which is of emerald and rose silk in wide stripes. The blouse bodice is of white silk gauze over a close lining of rose silk. It is shirred around the collar and across the bosom under bands of pink roses with foliage. The soft belt of rose silk fastens under a knot at the side. The elbow sleeves are of gauze over silk and have a double puff. The white straw hat is adorned with pink ribbon and large pink poppies with jet middles.

SUMMER WRAPS.

Extravagantly Trimmed, of Large Circumference and Much Beruffled.

Summer capes stop before reaching the waist line, but they make up in fullness what they lack in length. Some of the newest models are several yards in circumference, to match the flaring skirts now in vogue. These exceedingly full garments can be worn effectively only by tall, slender women. Cut cloth is much employed for capes. When the material used is pronounced in color, it is often veiled with sequined net, lace or embroidered net or chiffon, and vandyke lace is laid over the veiling, either plain or enriched with pearl, jet or metallic ornamentation. Seven different materials have been seen in one wrap. Every cape has a ruffle about the neck, whatever its destination. These ruffles were originally of plain ribbon, but are now elaborated in all sorts of fabrics, are trimmed with jet and other rich garnitures and are enormously full and broad.

Jackets are much worn in Paris just now, but no wardrobe is complete without a cape, which is so much more adaptable over trimmed bodices than any sleeved garment that it is sure to remain in favor as long as elaborate corsages are worn. Some of the new jackets are open in front, which necessitates a pretty arrangement underneath. This requirement is met by the vest, collar and cuff sets now sold, made of cambric or batiste and tucked and embroidered to the heart's desire. Sleeveless jackets have also made their appearance as a sort of tentative effort to overcome the sleeve difficulty without the aid of a cape, but they do not seem to take the fashionable fancy.

Besides the cape and jacket proper, there are innumerable little hybrid garments which serve as a finish to the out of door toilet, but can be classed under neither head. These are odd in shape and in adjustment, but often ravishing in effect, and are of the lightest and most frivolous materials, as a rule, decorated with lace frills and embroidery which make them expensive in spite of their slightness. An illustration of one of these vestments is given. It covers the back and the top of the sleeves, but comes nowhere near the neck. It is of glaze silk embroidered around the edge and trimmed with two ruffles of yellow lace. This wrap is held on the wearer by two ribbons crossing in front and fastening at the waist behind under a huge bow with ends. Two embroidered silk ends hang down in front, finished with lace ruffles and secured to the wrap by choix.

Voyagers For Pleasure

Or business, persons on the point of taking an "outing" on land or sea, yachtsmen and tourists need and should be provided with some preventive of sea sickness and corrective of the occasional ill effects of accustomed air, food and water. Many nervous persons experience qualms akin to sea sickness when traveling by rail. They, too, require a medicinal safeguard. The best in existence is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promptly relieves nausea, sick headache, biliousness, cramps and colic, &c. If business calls you to some locality where chills and fever or bilious remittent is prevalent, don't fail to provide yourself with it. For constipation, rheumatism and inactivity of the kidneys it is an excellent remedy. Eminent physicians commend it highly. Lay in a supply before you start by boat, steamer or train. It is a most serviceable traveling companion.

For Beauty Awheel.

The material used in a new and neat bicycle costume for young ladies is golden brown jersey cloth. The skirt reaches to the shoe tops and is cut in the latest mode, being stiffened with hair-cloth to a distance of ten inches, and is four yards around. Leggings of the same material as the gown meet knickerbockers of like texture at the knee. The jacket is broadly cut, but can be fastened if necessary, and is lined with cream white satin. Under this a perfect fitting white sweater is worn, which may be substituted by a white shirt waist. A golden brown hat with two black quills is used, with tan shoes of soft Russia leather. White or brown gloves with a bunch of violets finish this jaunty costume.

An Ancient Secret Society.

Der Alte Orden der Freischmiede, or Ancient Order of Free Smiths, which has a large membership among the Germans of America, claims to be the oldest secret society in the world. The first record of the order is traced back to the eighth century. The order originated the famous Elbmie courts and organized a secret society, the Free Smiths, which has had a continuous existence ever since. The first American lodge of the order was formed in Baltimore in 1863, and the order now has thousands of members throughout the United States. Almost every state has established lodges, and in not a few are grand lodges. The meeting rooms are called mithies, and the object of the order is mental elevation. The grand president of the order in America is Josef Kleibel of New York.

A FIFTEENTH CENTURY GIRL.

She Was a Lady of Rank, and Her Duties Included Pig Tending.

An extract from the journal of Elizabeth Woodville, afterward Lady Gray, and finally queen of Edward IV., shows that the girl of the fifteenth century was a very all-round kind of person. It is doubtful if even our up-to-date fin-de-siecle girl could equal her 400-years-back sister in activity and variety of housekeeping accomplishments.

Monday morning—Rose at 4 o'clock and helped Catherine to milk the cows. Rachel, the dairy-maid, having scalded her hand in so bad a manner the night before, made a poultice and gave Robin a penny to get something from the apothecary.

6 o'clock—The buttock of beef too much boiled and beer a little stale. Mean to talk to the cook about the first fault and to amend the other myself by tapping a fresh barrel immediately.

7 o'clock—Went to walk with the lady (my mother) in the courtyard; fed twenty-five men and women; child Roger severely for expressing some ill will at attending us with some broken meat.

8 o'clock—Went into the paddock behind the house with my maid Dorothy; caught Thump, the little pony, myself; rode a matter of ten miles without saddle or bridle.

10 o'clock—Went to dinner. John Grey, a most comely youth, but what is that to me? A virtuous maid should be entirely under the direction of her parents. John ate but little and stole a great many tender glances at me; said women would never be handsome in his eyes who were not good-tempered. I hope my temper is not intolerable. Nobody finds fault with it but Roger and he is the most disorderly youth in our house. John Grey likes white teeth; my teeth are a pretty good color. I think my hair is as black as jet, though I say it, and John Grey, if I mistake not, is of the same opinion.

11 o'clock—Rose from the table, the company all desirous of walking in the field. John Grey lifted me over every stile, and twice squeezed my hand with much vehemence. I cannot say I should have much objection, for he plays at prison-bar as well as any of the country gentlemen, is remarkably dutiful to his parents, my lord and lady, and never misses church on Sunday.

3 o'clock—Poor Farmer Robinson's house burned down by accidental fire. John Grey proposed a subscription among the company for the relief of the farmer, and gave no less than four pounds with this benevolent intent. (Mem. Never saw him look so comely as at this moment.)

4 o'clock—Went to prayers.

6 o'clock—Fed hogs and poultry.

MR. SKEEMER'S SCHEME.

If He Carries It Out He Will Be a Rich Man Indeed.

"The elevated railroad has just had to pay $20,000 because one of its guards attacked a passenger and smashed him in the face," said Mr. Skeemer to Mr. Plotz. "Now, I've a scheme. You and me aren't doing anything just now and we might put it into practice."

"What is it?" demanded Plotz. "I'll get a job as brakeman on the elevated, you get on my train and then I'll attack you. As soon as I see you I'll become uncontrollable, make a wild dash for you, kick you in the stomach, knock out your teeth, black your eyes and then throw you out of the window. You sue the company, all the passengers testifying that the attack was entirely unprovoked, as it was, and the jury will award you anywhere from $20,000 to $50,000. We divide evenly, of course. The bigger licking I give you the more money we get."

"Yes," interrupted Plotz, "I get the licking and 'we' get the money. Suppose I be the brakeman! I used to sweep out a railroad station, and I'd take to the business easier than you. Besides, I'm a harder puncher than you. After I get through with you the job would be worth $75,000 at least. How about it?" "No," said Skeemer, "the idea is mine, and if I can't assign the speaking parts I won't play. Oh, very well; if you don't want to, simply don't. I'll just hire a man for $50 to let me pound him and then I'll get all the profits myself. I'm going right down town now to see Col. Hahn and get the job, and you'll feel pretty sick when you read in the papers about another elevated guard running amuck and half killing a passenger. Won't you wish you'd been him? I'll be a rich man in a week." And he headed for downtown to get the job.—New York World.

SHE TOOK THE CHANCE.

Mean Advantage Attempted to Be Taken by Her Young Man.

"You look pale," said the sharp-nosed girl.

"I feel pale," sighed the fluffy girl; "but I am happy, anyway. You know that stinky little Chollie Tapetie? Well, he did open his heart enough to take me to the food show, and, of course, I sampled the samples. What are samples for? After I had eaten this and drank that and the other till I thought I just couldn't stand any more we started home. Then he saw his chance. So he asked me to have some ice cream."

"And did you accept?" asked the sharp-nosed girl.

"Accept! I ate three plates. With cake. And lemonade. They had to call the doctor for me, and papa scolded, oh, awfully, but I made that little wretch spend his money, anyway."—Indianapolis Journal.

Queer Luck at Monte Carlo.

There has been no very heavy play during the past week, save when a New York millionaire has been betting 1,000 franc notes upon chances which paid him enormously when he won, and he has won so frequently as to cause many to wonder at his good fortune. His good luck does not seem to excite him much and he remains quite as impassive when his notes are raked in. Doubtless in his case it is the mere desire to "beat the bank" which causes him to wager—the bank's money he can care for but little. Be that as it may, he certainly has so far this season been very successful. A rather strange episode in his experience in the rooms is related here. On a certain day in February some two years since he entered the place and walking up to one of the tables, placed the maximum (9 louis) on No. 13. He won and at once walked out with the 6,000 francs he had received. The next year he, upon entering, went to the same table, placed the maximum upon 13, and again he won.

Personal Pronoun Makes Trouble.

Johnny was writing a letter and Willie was looking over his shoulder.

"You're not making that 'I' right," said Willie.

"What's the matter with it, I'd like to know?" replied Johnny.

"You're running it below the line. That's what's the matter with it."

"I guess I'm writing this letter, ain't I? If I want to make it that way it's my business, ain't it?"

"Course. If you want to make a 'J' of yourself, go ahead."—Texas Siftings.

His Applause Well Put.

Friend (at a French play)—Why did you applaud so vigorously when that comedian made his speech before the curtain?

Spriggins (confidentially)—So folks would think I understood. What did he say?

Friend—He said the remainder of his part must be taken by an understudy, as he felt very ill.—Tit-Bits.

Joys of the Agriculturist.

Now the merry, merry farmer getteth up at four o'clock.

And he goeth out a-feeding and a-watering his stock;

And he fighteth grubs and insects all the bright and smiling morn.

For the worm is in the cabbage and the bug is in the corn.

—Chicago Tribune.

FOR SIZE AND SHAPE.

"The first thing that phrenologist exclaimed when he saw me was: 'What a head!'"

"Where were you the night before?"

—Life.

Almost Wiped Out.

Florida natives like to make game of inquisitive travelers. An English cockney was talking with a "cracker."

"Yes," said the Floridian, "we had an awful fire down in Swamp City last week. Only seventeen houses left standing."

"My goodness! How many were there before?"

"Eighteen."

While We Wash the Dishes.

"I leave you forever!" she scornfully ejaculated, striding from the room.

If these words were spoken by the new woman to some tender, helpless man, how dreadful would they be.

But it was the Hired Girl. How infinitely worse this makes it.—N. Y. Recorder.

No Elocutionist.

Mrs. Fogg—Oh, yes, Miss Della Sart is a fine elocutionist. She reads so naturally and every word is uttered with such distinctness!

Mr. Fogg—H'm! Reads distinctly and naturally, does she? Well, all I've got to say is, she is no elocutionist.—Boston Transcript.

Not Desirable.

Dashaway—What's the idea of putting your cigars in a glass case?

Cleverton—It preserves the flavor.

Dashaway—I shouldn't think, old man, that you would want to preserve the flavor of these cigars.—Brooklyn Life.

On the Cards.

Newgrad—Yes, Plugger was a very clever fellow, but he will never be heard from again; he has gone into the ministry.

Olgrad—Don't be too sure of that. He may yet develop heretical opinions.—N. Y. Herald.

Averaging It.

"Are you happily married?"

"I—I guess so. The extravagance of his protestations of affection for me just about equal his economy in buying dresses."—Indianapolis Journal.

Getting There with Both Feet.

"You think Col. Wigley is likely to succeed as a politician?"

"Succeeded? Why, man, he's already got to the point where he's burning him in effigy."—N. Y. Recorder.

The Little Trials of Life.

Carrie—Of course, I couldn't avoid hearing part of the conversation—

Clara—No; and what a pity you were not able to hear the rest of it!—Puck.

Self-Respect.

Mistress (reprovingly)—I saw you throwing slops out the back door to-day.

New Girl (with dignity)—I wouldn't live with a family who throwed 'em out th' front door, mum.—N. Y. Weekly.

IT STOPS THE PROGRESS OF Consumption. The makers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are certain of it. They've proved it for years past—and they're willing to sell it with the agreement that if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, they'll return the money.

Consumption is that serious condition that comes from impure blood. The "Discovery" prevents it, if taken in time; cures it completely, if you haven't waited too long; gives relief and comfort, even in advanced cases.

Use it in severe, lingering Coughs, Asthma, Weak Lungs, and every Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affection.

D. C. ROSENBAUM, Esq., of Dutch, Granger Co., Tenn., writes as follows: "I had been going down in strength and weight for months. I was not able to stand and I smothered very often. After taking 'Discovery' my cough was relieved. I could walk three miles without trouble, catching cold don't distress me now. As long as I live I'll praise 'G. M. D.'"
